DON'T BAR GOD'S WORD

The Evangelist Pleads For Its Retention.

STORY OF THE CINCINNATI RIOTS

The Interest at the Evangelistic Meetings Unabated—A vast audience present last night—Schiverec Tells of the Result of Barring the Word of God From the Schools.

The usual service of song and prayer took place last night. Mrs. Ted Brookes at the piano, Miss Emma Maple at the organ and Mills Bennett with cornet. Weeden and Miss Macrum rendered a charming duet, and Weeden afterwards rendered a solo, by request of workmen who were present. It was indeed an evening of pleasing song.

The entire center of the main body of the rink was devoted to men, and the sea of eager, intelligent, attentive faces, was well worth looking upon. The entire seating capacity of the rink was occupied, with very many persons standing.

The evangelist made merry at the expense of Weeden last night, and kept his audience in a good humor. He was illustrating the question of faith, as exemplified with the eating of food, without questioning the make-up or cooking of said food, on the part of a hungry man, and made use of Weeden as the supposed hungry man, interpolating his remarks with the side assertion that Weeden was always hungry, and always ready to partake of palatable food. Weeden blushed furiously, under the eyes of the choir and audience, the gaze of every one within sight being focused upon him. After second song service, the evangelist addressed the great mass of attentive hearers.

"The seventh verse of the 39th Psalm. 'And now, Lord, what wait I for?' There is not a man or woman present tonight who will tell me that they desire to die in their sins. No, no; no matter how reckless or sinful they may be, they still cling to the idea that there is hope for them. If God were not the very embodiment of mercy and kindness, many here tonight would have been where mercy and salvation never come. What are you waiting for, men and women of East Liverpool? Be honest and square and make your appeal to the Master. Cry out mightily, for there is great need: 'My God, my God, what am I waiting for?' You are taking awful risks. You are trampling love and mercy under your feet. You believe in the Son of God—in the efficacy of his blood; in hell and heaven; in future punishments and rewards. In the name of high heaven, my friends, what are you waiting for? Cry out, cry out; yes, cry out to a throne of grace; cry out mightily, for there is awful need: 'Oh, my heavenly Father, help me to settle this matter just now; what am I waiting for?'

"Men, are you waiting for God to do something more in your case? If you are, you will be disappointed. He has done all he ever will for you. Dare you demand or ask for anything more? He gave his brightest jewel from heaven in order that you might be saved; he gave Jesus, his only and well-beloved son, to die on the accursed tree, in order that you, poor sinful creature, might have eternal life, without money and without price, simply for the accepting thereof. How dare you ask for more? God will meet you at the judgment and tell you that he did all that he could for you, and you refused his salvation.

"Bob Ingersoll has been quoted as saying: 'If I find out, at the judgment seat, that there is such a thing as salvation from sin; if I find out that there is hell and a heaven; if I find out that the Bible can be relied upon and that the book is not a cunningly devised fable, the work of human hands and minds; if I find out that the soul is immortal, then I'll go up to God like a man, look Him in the face and tell Him that I've made an awful mistake; that I denied the Bible as a book inspired of God; that I joked about it, ridiculed it, and placed it in the same list as other books; that I laughed at the idea of a hell and a heaven. Now, I've discovered my awful mistake, and I want another chance. I want to redeem myself.' Men, Bob Ingersoll possesses awful cheek and brass, but not enough to thus plead before his Creator. God would say unto him, were such a situation possible: 'What did you do with the 50 years of experience I gave you upon earth? What did you do with the truths contained in the Bible? What right had you to put the Bible alongside of and in line with books of human conception? No such book was ever written by mankind, and you well knew this. You should have been right down below. It is too late, too late; you are numbered with the lost.'

"Men, you will not dare ask God for another opportunity when you appear at the judgment seat. He has done everything for you here; here is where we settle the matter, for time and for eternity.

"There are those who claim that they don't like God's conditions. They have petty sins, as they call them; evil associates, drinking, gambling, dancing; they want God to permit them to do all these things and save them finally. It can't be done, men; it is not in accordance with the great plan of salvation; you must bid goodbye to your sins, to wickedness, evil doing, base appetites, for God says so: 'Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts.'

God don't ask you to give up culture, refinement, business, happiness, contentment, peace, good character, self respect, prosperity, honesty, virtue or true manhood; oh, no, he only asks you to give up that which is wrong, sinful, evil and debasing in its character.

Our God is loving, tender hearted, merciful and forgiving, combining these attributes with stern justice. You must obey, or you must take the consequences. All he hates is our sins; he cannot look upon sin with the least degree of allowance; his laws have never been changed and never will be.

"Some people hate to make a public acknowledgment of their sins; they say that they want to be forgiven on the quiet. You know, men, that such a course is not manly. If it is a good and pure and true thing to do, no man or woman should be ashamed to do it. You are not ashamed of being a Republican, a Democrat, a Prohibitionist; no, you glory in it, and want all men to know it; why, then, should you be ashamed of clean life, of happy homes, of honesty and virtue, of Jesus? I sincerely hope that no one in all this vast audience will be ashamed to advocate and vote for the Bible, God's inspired word; not one of you, not one of you. No need to be ashamed of your vote when you cast your ballot for the Bible. No need to be ashamed that you are a Christian. If you are ashamed of Jesus here on earth, he will be ashamed of you before his father in heaven.

"Some say: 'Oh, but I hate to get down on my knees. I hate to humiliate myself.' Think of it men. Jesus, the son of God, in his wonderful love, did not fail to humiliate himself, in order that he might save poor sinful man; he was nailed to the accursed tree for your sake; for your sake he was made an awful exhibition of. Oh, friends, are you not ashamed of yourselves in your plea of humiliation?

"Others want to have more feeling in the matter; more of emotion connected with their salvation. It is not merely a question of feeling—of emotion; it is a matter of fixed principle: a matter of right and duty.

"A man in Toronto resolved that life was a failure and determined to take his own life. He went to the hills for this purpose, armed, accompanied only by his dog. As he was about to commit the awful act of suicide, he stated that an unseen hand held him back and a voice said to him: 'Don't do it, don't do it; you don't dare do it; you can't quit living; you'll go on living after you commit this awful crime.'

He afterwards stood up in the Presbyterian church and said: 'I'm tired of sin. I'm an old veteran of the late war. If there is a better life, I want to have it, and I want your prayers that God will help me.'

That man was the happiest man in East Liverpool today, as he announced that for two weeks he has been free from the curse of rum; two weeks a Christian; two weeks in the service of God. Oh, men, don't wait for mere feeling, but accept the Savior because it is the only right, reasonable and true thing to do; accept Jesus as your Savior now, and leave the rest with God.

"Said a young fellow, accompanied by a companion: 'I was up at those gospel meetings; they couldn't fool me; don't believe in anything I can't understand; don't believe in anything I can't see into.' There was a quiet old Quaker present, and he said to the small young fellow: 'Excuse me, but I heard you say that you do not believe in anything you can't see into; have you any brains?' 'Of course I have,' indignantly replied the young fellow. 'Can you see into them?' said the Quaker. 'Naw,' replied the man of limited understanding.

"Down in Florida you can see a tree on which are blossoms, leaves, ripe and green fruit. You don't understand it; you can't account for it; but there it is, a living reality.

"Men, you can have absolute proof, living examples of Christianity, all the year round. Where? In happy homes, honest lives, happy children, happy parents. Why? Because they have taken Jesus as their exemplar and Savior.

"Some say: 'There's a mystery about this that I can't understand. When you tell them to accept Jesus through faith, they tell you they can't exercise faith. Men, they live on faith. If a prescription is given them, they take the medicine at once. Why? Because they have faith in the physician. They purchase a ticket at the station and get on the train. Here's the faith again. Where? Faith in the matter of being taken by that train to their destination. Place the same faith in God that you do in the physician, and in the engine, and your salvation is an assured fact.

"There are three things I want you to consider: First, that we are all in need of a savior. Secondly, that a savior has been provided for one and all. Third, that as soon as the remedy for sin is applied, God saves us and takes care of us, just as long as we are true to him. Say to Jesus: 'I'm a sin sick soul, and I pray you to apply the remedy.'

Men, I took the remedy twenty years ago, had faith in Jesus, and, praise his holy name, he has stood by me ever since, through thick and thin, and has never deserted me or forsaken me.

"You work in the potteries. Well, you have faith in the paymaster. You go to work and have faith that you will be paid on payday. Suppose you would go to the boss and say to him: 'I want to go to work for you, but I have no faith in you; pay me now, in advance, or I won't work; would you get the cash? Not much cash.'

"I go to the engineer and say to him: 'How much steam have you on?' He replies: 'Just enough to start her.' At the next station I say to him: 'How much steam have you on now?' He answers: 'Plenty, and to spare. We make steam as we run.'

Men, I got steam on in this gospel work 20 years ago, and I've been getting more ever since. I'm working some of it off on you tonight. Thank God, I've got plenty and to spare, and I wish in my heart that you had some of it. You'll never succeed unless you start. Start, and God will see you have all the steam necessary. Listen, men, listen: 'Now is the accepted time.'

This is God's word to you. Now! now! now!!

He answers: 'Plenty, and to spare. We make steam as we run.'

stares you in the face? For your soul's sake, accept Jesus tonight.

"God says: 'He that cometh unto me, I will in nowise cast out.' God will receive you now, no matter how sinful you are. Be brave and honest and say: 'By the help of God, I'll decide the matter, now and forever, and accept Christ, the son of God, as my Savior.'

The after meeting was a blessed place to be. You are earnestly invited to be present tonight.

A NEW ORGANIZATION.

A Company of Youthful Aspirants for Theatrical Fame.

A number of our small boys, ranging from 12 to 16 years of age, are sadly afflicted with stage fever, and are arranging for the production of a play, the name of which has not yet been made public, but will be their own property. A young man of the city, who delights in writing fiction, and is aspiring for fame and a name among the leading literary lights, is ardently working on a play for the boys which will, no doubt, put all former productions in the shade.

Whether it is comedy, drama or tragedy, is not yet given out, but the boys feel confident of producing anything that may emanate from that mighty pen in a manner that will do credit to the profession. The dates have not yet been decided upon.

Later we learn that the manager, Arthur Garfield Hynes, has purchased the scenery of Brunt's Opera House, and will hold the boards at Bradshaw hall some time next month, after which they will make an extended tour of the county, taking in Clarkson, Dry Run, Calcutta and other intermediate points. The cast is headed by Eddie Foy Adams, Lawrence Barrett McKinney, Joseph Jefferson Stapleton and the invincible Julius Caesar "Toady."

THANKED THE LADIES.

The Members of the Eagle Club Presented With a Bible.

A number of ladies, members of the United Presbyterian church, visited the Eagle club room, Market street, on Monday night last, and presented the club with a handsome Bible. The members return warm thanks for the same, and have resolved to read the Bible at the opening of their business meetings in the future. This is surely a commendable feature, and should be conducive of good, in the hands of the Master, and is in strange contrast with the action of the East Liverpool school board. The members of the Eagle club desire that the News Review shall state that no dancing occurred in their rooms on Sunday, and promise that none ever shall take place there on the holy day.

WILL WORK TOGETHER.

An Effort Being Made to Consolidate Telephone Companies.

An effort is being made to consolidate all the telephone companies in the United States, in order that they can more successfully cope against the Bell company. It is thought by the projectors of the plan that this would have a good effect upon the local companies, as they would then be backed by every company in the United States, in their fight to establish a rival telephone line, instead of working it out alone. McGhie & Moore, of this city, are in receipt of a communication asking them to enter into the plan, but have as yet not decided what to do.

TROLLEY OFF,

And the Street Car Stopped on the Railroad Tracks.

As street car No. 3 was crossing the Cleveland and Pittsburgh tracks on Second street this morning, the trolley came off and left the car standing in the middle of the track. Just at this moment the whistle of the morning train, westward bound, was heard, and the motorman made haste to put the trolley on again, and succeeded in getting the car across the rails just as the locomotive hove in sight. A number of cars have frequently had the same experience at this point, and it would not be surprising if a serious accident occurred sometime.

NO DAMAGE.

But the Team Started to Run Away.

A team of horses hitched to a cart, and belonging to a man named Myers, of West End, were left standing at the corner of Sixth and Jefferson street, while he went into a store room nearby. A street car came up the hill, while he was still in the store, and the horses started to run, taking a course down the sidewalk on Jefferson street. They had ran perhaps not more than 50 yards when they attempted to turn out into the roadway, and in so doing in some manner became straddled on a telephone pole, and they stopped short, thus averting what might have proven a disastrous runaway.

EX-PRISONERS MEET.

The ex-prisoners of the late war, of Columbiana county, will meet in Grand Army hall, Monday night, March 23, for the purpose of transacting important business. County papers please copy.

Walter Tarr is able to be out after an extended illness.

Oh, men, don't wait for mere feeling, but accept the Savior because it is the only right, reasonable and true thing to do; accept Jesus as your Savior now, and leave the rest with God.

"Bob Ingersoll has been quoted as saying: 'If I find out, at the judgment seat, that there is such a thing as salvation from sin; if I find out that there is a hell and a heaven; if I find out that the Bible can be relied upon and that the book is not a cunningly devised fable, the work of human hands and minds; if I find out that the soul is immortal, then I'll go up to God like a man, look Him in the face and tell Him that I've made an awful mistake; that I denied the Bible as a book inspired of God; that I joked about it, ridiculed it, and placed it in the same list as other books; that I laughed at the idea of a hell and a heaven. Now, I've discovered my awful mistake, and I want another chance. I want to redeem myself.' Men, Bob Ingersoll possesses awful cheek and brass, but not enough to thus plead before his Creator. God would say unto him, were such a situation possible: 'What did you do with the 50 years of experience I gave you upon earth? What did you do with the truths contained in the Bible? What right had you to put the Bible alongside of and in line with books of human conception? No such book was ever written by mankind, and you well knew this. You should have been right down below. It is too

"Men, you can have absolute proof, living examples of Christianity, all the year round. Where? In happy homes, honest lives, happy children, happy parents. Why? Because they have taken Jesus as their exemplar and Savior.

"Some say: 'There's a mystery about this that I can't understand. When you tell them to accept Jesus through faith, they tell you they can't exercise faith. Men, they live on faith. If a prescription is given them, they take the medicine at once. Why? Because they have faith in the physician. They purchase a ticket at the station and get on the train. Here's faith again. Where? Faith in the matter of being taken by that train to their destination. Place the same faith in God that you do in the physician, and in the engine, and your salvation is an assured fact.'

"There are three things I want you to consider: First, that we are all in need of a savior. Secondly, that a savior has been provided for one and all. Third, that as soon as the remedy for sin is applied, God saves us and takes care of us, just as long as we are true to him. Say to Jesus: 'I'm a sin sick soul, and I pray you to apply the remedy.' Men, I took the remedy twenty years ago, had faith in Jesus, and praise his holy name, he has stood by me ever since, through thick and thin, and has never deserted me or forsaken me.

"You work in the potteries. Well, you have faith in the paymaster. You go to work and have faith that you will be paid on pay day. Suppose you would go to the boss and say to him: 'I want to go to work for you, but I have no faith in you; pay me now, in advance, or I won't work; would you get the cash? Not much cash.'

"I go to the engineer and say to him: 'How much steam have you on?' He replies: 'Just enough to start her.' At the next station I say to him: 'How much steam have you on now?' He answers: 'Plenty, and to spare. We make steam as we run.' Men, I got steam on in this gospel work 20 years ago, and I've been getting more ever since. I'm working some of it off on you tonight. Thank God, I've got plenty and to spare, and I wish in my heart that you had some of it. You'll never succeed unless you start. Start, and God will see you have all the steam necessary. Listen, men, listen: 'Now is the accepted time.' This is God's word to you. Now! now! now!!! There is no other time. You dare not trifle with your immortal soul. Now is God's time; now is your time. Oh, men, I appeal to you; don't make a mistake by putting this off.

"I was in Cincinnati at the time of the awful riots which disgraced that city and the State of Ohio. Infidels, bad men and anarchists had succeeded in getting the BIBLE OUT OF THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS. A reign of absolute terror followed. The supreme court had decided that the Bible question could be decided by the local school boards, and the school boards of Cincinnati were composed of bad, lawless, Godless men; they banished God's word from the public schools. Riot, bloodshed, disorder, arson and murder came upon the city, and I believe, in my soul, that it came as punishment for the insult to the Bible. I was abused, maligned and shot at. Men, I was compelled to have a body guard with me; three men behind me and three in front, every man armed to the teeth. I went to the mayor and asked for protection, and he replied: 'Protection! Why, man, I can't give it to you. This is a lawless, wicked city. I need protection for myself.' Think of that, men; think of such an admission from the mayor of a great city. Listen, citizens of East Liverpool, listen! Listen, Catholics and Protestants alike:

"Look out for riots, for lawlessness, for disorder, for destruction of property, when you take the Bible out of your public schools."

"I saw an engineer, employed on one of your railroads, stand up in Cincinnati before an audience of 3,000 people (people who wanted the Bible back again, and who hissed Bob Ingersoll out of the city) and say: 'Men, you know me; you know that I have been a Godless man for many years; but, thank God, I've been redeemed. I've a story to tell you here today. I loved my fireman, a wicked man, and I was much concerned about his soul. I went to him and said: "Bill, dear old fellow, I'm troubled about your soul. I want you to settle the matter, Bill, and decide for Christ." He looked at me kindly and said: "Tom, I give you credit for what you have done in this matter; you have done the right thing. Don't bother about me, Tom. I'll attend to the matter after awhile." A few days after this, while Bill was shoveling coal into the furnace, the coupling broke and he went down and under the wheels. We found the fragments of his body distributed all along the track for nearly a quarter of a mile. I said, as I looked at the remains: "Oh, my God, there's my fireman's body, but where is his soul?"

"Down in Florida you can see a tree on which is blossoms, leaves, ripe and green fruit. You don't understand it; you can't account for it; but there it is, a living reality.

"Men, you can have absolute proof, living examples of Christianity, all the year round. Where? In happy homes, honest lives, happy children, happy parents. Why? Because they have taken Jesus as their exemplar and Savior.

"stares you in the face? For your soul's sake, accept Jesus tonight.

"God says: 'He that cometh unto me, I will in nowise cast out.' God will receive you now, no matter how sinful you are. Be brave and honest and say: 'By the help of God, I'll decide the matter, now and forever, and accept Christ, the son of God, as my Savior.'

The after meeting was a blessed place to be. You are earnestly invited to be present tonight.

A NEW ORGANIZATION.

A Company of Youthful Aspirants for Theatrical Fame.

A number of our small boys, ranging from 12 to 16 years of age, are sadly afflicted with stage fever, and are arranging for the production of a play, the name of which has not yet been made public, but will be their own property. A young man of the city, who delights in writing fiction, and is aspiring for fame and a name among the leading literary lights, is ardently working on a play for the boys which will, no doubt, put all former productions in the shade. Whether it is comedy, drama or tragedy, is not yet given out, but the boys feel confident of producing anything that may emanate from that mighty pen in a manner that will do credit to the profession. The dates have not yet been decided upon.

Later we learn that the manager, Arthur Garfield Hynes, has purchased the scenery of Brunt's Opera House, and will hold the boards at Bradshaw hall some time next month, after which they will make an extended tour of the county, taking in Clarkson, Dry Run, Calcutta and other intermediate points. The cast is headed by Eddie Foy Adams, Lawrence Barrett McKinney, Joseph Jefferson Stapleton and the invincible Julius Caesar "Toady."

THANKED THE LADIES.

The Members of the Eagle Club Presented With a Bible.

A number of ladies, members of the United Presbyterian church, visited the Eagle club room, Market street, on Monday night last, and presented the club with a handsome Bible. The members return warm thanks for the same, and have resolved to read the Bible at the opening of their business meetings in the future. This is surely a commendable feature, and should be conducive of good, in the hands of the Master, and is in strange contrast with the action of the East Liverpool school board. The members of the Eagle club desire that the NEWS REVIEW shall state that no dancing occurred in their rooms on Sunday, and promise that none ever shall take place there on the holy day.

WILL WORK TOGETHER.

An Effort Being Made to Consolidate Telephone Companies.

An effort is being made to consolidate all the telephone companies in the United States, in order that they can more successfully cope against the Bell company. It is thought by the projectors of the plan that this would have a good effect upon the local companies, as they would then be backed by every company in the United States, in their fight to establish a rival telephone line, instead of working it out alone. McGhie & Moore, of this city, are in receipt of a communication asking them to enter into the plan, but have as yet not decided what to do.

Threatened His Daughter.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
Of Ohio.

SOLID FOR GOD'S WORD.

The report has been spread that E. J. Owens, of the Fourth ward, is not right on the Bible question—not in favor of the reading in the public schools, by teachers to pupils. This report has been spread by enemies of the Bible. Mr. E. J. Owens is for the Bible, first, last and all the time. This is absolute, and cannot be successfully contradicted. We know what we are talking about. E. J. Owen will do credit to East Liverpool as a member of the school board. He should be elected by an overwhelming majority.

FROM A BUSINESS VIEW.

Merchants, manufacturers, business men in general, are you conscious of the fact that the present evangelical services in our city are conducive of great good to you, from a common sense, practical, everyday business standpoint? How? By making workmen, mechanics, clerks and employees in general, God fearing and God loving characters. By taking men who have been moderate and immoderate drinkers and placing their feet on the solid rock of truth, sobriety, Christianity. The workman who spends his nights in carousal, drinking and kindred bad work, cannot do honest work for his employer in the hours devoted to labor. It is an impossibility in the nature of things, and every business man of ripe experience knows this to be an indisputable fact. We find it so in newspaper work, the same as other enterprises, and the management of the NEWS REVIEW will not employ a drinker or gambler, if known to be such, on the plain basis of common sense, if for no other reason than the following: "It don't pay." Yes, business men, merchants, pottery manufacturers, it pays you, in time and in eternity, to have your workmen redeemed from the thrall and curse of the saloon and kindred evils.

WATCH THEM.

The enemies of the Bible are wide awake, and they are leaving no stone unturned to defeat the reading of the blessed book in our public schools. They are entering into alliances which will some time prove to them a source of deep regret. But they only care for victory in the present, heedless of consequences. One of the most prominent business men of this city, fully posted in the political history of East Liverpool and Columbian county, said to the management of the NEWS REVIEW: "Keep your eye on that man; he will bear watching. In business he is an honest man, as the world goes; but in politics he is absolutely unscrupulous and will resort to anything to accomplish his purpose." Friends of the Bible, knowing what you have to contend with, it is your bounden duty to be wide awake and in earnest, urging every one, on every hand, loving the Bible as the word of God, to work and vote in favor of the book of books. Every ward should be canvassed, in a house to house canvass, and committees should be appointed to see that this canvass is made beyond peradventure. God demands that His soldiers shall do earnest, faithful duty in His service, and pensions every member of that army, in time and in eternity.

WHAT WILL WE DO.

What will we do in connection with the congressional committee which visits Pittsburgh on Saturday next, for the purpose of inspecting the Ohio river? Will East Liverpool pay no attention to these men, who have been sent out for the purpose of possibly creating an avenue for freighting, which will almost revolutionize the carrier traffic, and open up a trade which will be simply magnificent and colossal when carried into effect? Imagine, for a moment, the thought of the Ohio river having always a depth of six feet of water, with a fleet of steamers constantly traversing the same, and carrying the products of the various enterprises along its shores to the lower markets, and returning again with needed supplies in the way of exchange. Then the thought of the new enterprises which such a creation would cause to spring into existence, furnishing employment to thousands upon thousands of workmen. Truly the idea is a grand one, and the beauty of it is that it is a business like and thoroughly practical idea. Our officials of East Liverpool should at once make arrangements looking to the sending of at least a couple of representative citizens to Pittsburgh, to accompany the congressional committee to this point, letting them know what a hive of industry this pottery center is. Action should be taken at once.

FRANCE IS DISPLEASED.

England's Intended Soudan Campaign Proves Irritating.

A WARNING NOTE IS SOUNDED.

M. Berthelot Questions the British Ambassador and Points Out the Serious Consequences, Which May Follow—Russia Has No Sympathy With England.

PARIS, March 18.—The French government, up to this time, has not defined its position toward the British proposal to dispatch an Egyptian expedition up the Nile.

There is reason to believe that the proposal came as a surprise to the French government. French statesmen had been entertaining the hope that an opening of negotiations was near at hand looking to the evacuation of Egypt by the British troops.

Next to the sovereignty of Germany over Alsace-Lorraine, probably the greatest source of irritation known to French diplomacy is the British occupation of Egypt. The present move on Great Britain's part is doubly irritating, coming as a check to the hopes the French statesmen had allowed themselves to entertain.

The first intimation has come of the probable course which France will take in view of the new conditions in Egypt. A sensation has been caused by the announcement made by M. Berthelot, minister of foreign affairs, in the cabinet of the British ambassador, the Marquis of Dufferin, for information regarding the proposed advance of British-Egyptian troops up the Nile and had pointed out to him the serious consequences of such an advance. This warning note may be a preliminary to more decided steps.

The government's semi-official statement further announces that Great Britain's explanation that the advance is necessary in the interest of Egypt "is viewed with suspicion by France."

France is not deciding upon the course she will pursue without a full understanding with her Russian ally, and it is announced that numerous telegrams have passed between Paris and St. Petersburg today on the subject. It is understood here that Great Britain also sounded the Russian government before announcing the Egyptian program. But the action of the czar in conferring upon the Negus Menelik the military order of St. George is accepted as peremptory notice that Russia has no sympathy with Great Britain's plans for aiding and relieving the Italians in Africa.

The apprehensions aroused in France by a British campaign up the Nile extend beyond Egypt, beyond Dongola and Khartoum and into Central Africa and the sources of the Nile, where French colonial expansion has been as active or more active than it has been in Tonking and up the Mekong. This French expansion threatens to absorb the valley of the Nile itself and to push on to the borders of the Italian possessions in Ethiopia, thus forming an obstruction between British Uganda and Egypt. Great Britain has viewed these encroachments with impatience and French observers do not fail to note that even Liberal members of the British parliament express the belief that Lord Salisbury is looking to reoccupying the Soudan and opening a way to the British possessions in South Africa.

The vast territory eastward of Lake Tschad including the Mohammedan states of Baghira, Wadai and Darfour have also been rapidly brought under French influence and from another point of vantage for advance into the Nile valley.

France fears that the Egyptian advance to Dongola covers a British advance to Khartoum to Uganda and an interference with her prosperous colonial expansion in Central Africa. The British occupation of Egypt is sufficiently galling in itself but more so in its threats to French plans in Africa beyond Egypt.

A Cairo special says: Sir H. H. Kitchener, the brigadier general in command of the Egyptian forces, has been definitely appointed to command the British-Egyptian expedition, which will advance on April 1 from Wady Halfa upon the Nile toward Dongola.

Slatin Pasha, formerly an officer of the Austrian and Egyptian armies, and who recently escaped from Omdurman after having been nearly 17 years in captivity in the Soudan, will take part in the expedition.

THE TARIFF NEXT SESSION.

PAYNE ANNOUNCES THE INTENTIONS OF THE HOUSE REPUBLICANS.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The house has passed the bill to amend the administrative tariff act of 1890 and passed it without substantial amendment. The purpose of the bill is to strengthen the act of 1890.

During the debate Mr. Johnson (Rep. Cal.), asked Mr. Payne why the ways and means committee had not reported a bill reforming the tariff schedules. "If we were simply playing to the galleries," replied Mr. Payne, "we might bring in such a bill knowing it could not become a law. I hope to join with the gentleman from California in the Fifty-fifth congress in the enactment of a law that will furnish ample protection to American industries."

THE RIVER AND HARBOR BILL.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—It is expected that the river and harbor bill will be reported to the house within a few days. INTERNATIONAL BIMETALLISM.

MOVES IN THREE EUROPEAN COUNTRIES LOOKING TO A CONFERENCE.

PARIS, March 18.—M. Meline, the French protectionist leader in the chamber of deputies, has presented a motion that the government open negotiations for the bringing about of an international monetary agreement.

In the house of commons the motion of Mr. Whitley has been adopted, which recites that it is the opinion of the house that the instability in the relative value of gold and silver since the action of the latin union in 1873 had proved injurious to the best interests of the country and it urges upon the government the advisability that they do their utmost to secure an international monetary agreement.

A Brussels special says: In the senate the premier, P. de Smet de Naeyer, has reiterated the views which he expressed in the chamber of deputies on March 13, when, replying to a question on the subject, he urged the re-establishment of international bimetallism and assured the chamber that the government would acquiesce in any measure insuring by international agreement the stability of the monetary exchange.

FRANCE IS DISPLEASED.

England's Intended Soudan Campaign Proves Irritating.

A WARNING NOTE IS SOUNDED.

M. Berthelot Questions the British Ambassador and Points Out the Serious Consequences, Which May Follow—Russia Has No Sympathy With England.

PARIS. March 18.—The French government, up to this time, has not defined its position toward the British proposal to dispatch an Egyptian expedition up the Nile.

There is reason to believe that the proposal came as a surprise to the French government. French statesmen had been entertaining the hope that an opening of negotiations was near at hand looking to the evacuation of Egypt by the British troops.

Next to the sovereignty of Germany over Alsace-Lorraine, probably the greatest source of irritation known to French diplomacy is the British occupation of Egypt. The present move on Great Britain's part is doubly irritating, coming as a check to the hopes the French statesmen had allowed themselves to entertain.

The first intimation has come of the probable course which France will take in view of the new conditions in Egypt. A sensation has been caused by the announcement made by M. Berthelot, minister of foreign affairs, in the cabinet meeting that he had asked the British ambassador, the Marquis of Duferin, for information regarding the proposed advance of British-Egyptian troops up the Nile and had pointed out to him the serious consequences of such an advance. This warning note may be a preliminary to more decided steps.

Morgan Produces Awful Evidence In the Senate.

FEARFUL ATROCITIES IN CUBA.

The Senator Expects Spanish Fanaticism to Drive Spain Into War With the United States—A Vote Soon Expected on the Cuban Resolutions.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The Cuban debate in the senate is drawing to a close and the expectation is that a final vote will be taken within a day or two. Mr. Sherman is keeping the question before the senate continuously, so that the speeches are not likely to last much longer. Mr. Mills (Tex.) and Mr. Platt (Conn.) are yet to be heard, but their remarks will not be lengthy.

Mr. Morgan (Ala.) occupied almost the entire session speaking in support of the resolutions. The senator severely arraigned Minister Dupuy de Lome of Spain for impropriety in criticizing senators. He also recited many evidences of the severities and atrocities with which Spain was prosecuting the war. Mr. Morgan said he feared that the fanaticism of Spain would lead her to take up the gauge of war no matter how mild and proper the course of congress might be.

Mr. Morgan severely condemned the Spanish minister for criticizing senators, but said he did not advocate his dismissal.

The senator then had the clerks read the reply of Gonzales Quesada, secretary of the Cuban junta, to the Spanish minister's letter. It related shocking details, as to indignities on naked Cuban women by Spanish troops and General Weyler, the branding of women on their breasts, the assaulting of defenseless women, etc.

Mr. Morgan read further evidence of Spanish cruelty in Cuba. One referred to the massacre of seven young men, who were stood against a wall and shot to pieces by a regiment of soldiers.

Mr. Morgan read from personal letters received by him giving the experience of men in Cuba. The letters told of violations of girls and the massacre of women and children. A Cuban general was stripped of his clothes and exhibited before crowds of women, then killed and his body dragged a mile. A beautiful girl was torn from her mother and carried off by a Spanish officer. These atrocities were given with great minuteness, said to be the personal observation of the writers of the letters. Mr. Morgan said the writer was a graduate of the Virginia military academy. Another letter was from a Philadelphian who recounted atrocities witnessed by him and another from Daniel Sickles, formerly United States minister to Spain.

Mr. Morgan said the letters disclosed the existence of a bloody war, and it was the duty of congress to recognize that condition of war as existing. The senator said he had received postal cards from the north bidding him to leave the country and console with the negro, Maeo. But he could not be diverted by these insults, or by the attack of some newspapers which asserted he was seeking a war with Spain in order to bring about the restoration of silver coinage.

"I would rather be in a cabinet with Gomez and Maeo than with Balmaceda and General Weyler," declared Mr. Morgan.

Mr. Morgan said he believed the president should approve the course of congress, but if he did not congress would have discharged its duty to the people, and the responsibility would be left with the president.

Mr. Morgan said he did not wish to give Spain any cause of complaint, and he therefore favored the mild, firm resolutions now pending. "And yet," added the senator in closing, "I have not doubted that any action would cause this fanatical nation to take up the gauge of war."

BIG INCREASE IN THE NAVY.

The Bill Provides For Four Battleships and Fifteen Torpedoboats.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The naval appropriation bill for the next fiscal year will contain the most liberal allowances for the increase of the navy carried by any bill since the war. Four battleships and 15 torpedoboats was the decision of the committee on the question of new vessels, which had been the principal point of discussion in many meetings.

The Democrats fought hard to secure six battleships, but the Republicans stood well together and carried their point. The motion for six battleships was made by Mr. Cumming (N. Y.) and was lost by a vote of 6 to 7, but one Republican voting for it.

The four battleships will be of 11,000 tons each, and the cost is not to exceed $3,750,000 each, exclusive of armament, which is thought to be an ample provision, as other ships of the same class have been built in recent years well within that figure. Five of the torpedoboats are to have a speed of 26 knots and to cost within $850,000 each; the other ten are to have a speed of 20 knots and their cost limit is $800,000 each.

STONE'S BILL FAVORED.

His Immigration Measure to Be Reported to the House.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The house committee on immigration has made a favorable report on Representative W. A. Stone's immigration bill. The bill provides that no alien shall be admitted to the United States without a certificate from a United States consul to the country from which he hails that he is eligible.

The McCall bill, which is attached as amended by the committee, excludes all males between the ages of 16 and 60 who are not able to read and write English or some other language. The original bill placed the age limits at 14 and 60 and applied to both sexes. The omission of females from its provision was decided upon to prevent the separation of families.

The Story Not Believed.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—No warrant can be found here for the statements coming from Caracas to the effect that a British fleet is about to make a hostile demonstration at La Guayara to enforce the collection of an indemnity for the ill treatment of a British officer at Urua.

JAMESON HAD INSTRUCTIONS.
A Witness Tells of a Letter Referred to on the Raid.

LONDON, March 18.—The examination of Dr. S. L. Jameson, the raider of the Transvaal, and his companions, charged, under the foreign enlistment act, with "warring on a friendly state," has been resumed.

Trooper Hill of the Matabeleland mounted police testified to hearing Dr. Jameson make a speech at Pitsani to the men who were to compose the expeditionary column. According to Hill Dr. Jameson told the troopers they were going to Johannesburg in order to protect the English women and children, whose lives were in danger.

Replying to a question the witness said that Dr. Jameson, while addressing the troopers, referred frequently to a letter which he held in his hand and which appeared to contain instructions as to the conduct of the expedition.

A letter from Johannesburg, dated Dec. 20, and appealing to Dr. Jameson to assist the Uitlanders against the oppression of the Boers was introduced in evidence. A dispatch sent by Sergeant White, with orders to overtake Dr. Jameson, and recalling the raiders was also introduced, after which the hearing was adjourned for a week.

WANAMAKER ON ARMENIA.

He Declares the Necessity For Relief Is Appalling.

PHILADELPHIA, March 18.—A cablegram from the Hon. John Wanamaker has been received in this city relative to the situation in Armenia. It is from Phillipopole as follows: "I am convinced that the necessity is appalling. Needs for relief are extremely urgent. Highly approve your methods of distribution through Mr. Peel. Remit generously and promptly directly to him."

When Mr. Wanamaker sailed for Europe in Jan. the citizens' permanent relief committee of this city, which has thus far collected and distributed $10,000, arranged that during his stay in Constantinople he should inquire of the Armenian situation, and the committee's plans for the distribution of the moneys collected in Philadelphia for the relief of the sufferers and give the committee the benefit of his conclusions. The moneys collected for Armenia are remitted to Mr. Peel in Constantinople.

CANALS WON'T CONSOLIDATE.

A Denial of a Panama and Nicaragua Canal Combine.

NEW YORK, March 18.—Mr. Nelson Cromwell, the American counsel of the new Panama Canal company of Paris, referring to recent statements to the effect that a consolidation of the Panama and Nicaragua companies had been agreed upon or was under negotiation, made the following statement:

"I have just filed with Secretary of State Olney a formal declaration in behalf of the new Panama Canal company that there does not exist, nor is there in contemplation, any agreement, arrangement or plan for the consolidation or acquisition of the Panama company with or by the Nicaragua company, under any form of ownership or control; and that there has not been any negotiation to that end."

"I would rather be in a cabinet with Gomez and Maceo than with Balmaceda and General Weyler," declared Mr. Morgan.

Mr. Morgan said he believed the president should approve the course of congress, but if he did not congress would have discharged its duty to the people, and the responsibility would be left with the president.

Mr. Morgan said he did not wish to give Spain any cause of complaint, and he therefore favored the mild, firm resolutions now pending. "And yet," added the senator in closing, "I have not doubted that any action would cause this fanatical nation to take up the gauge of war."

BIG INCREASE IN THE NAVY.

The Bill Provides For Four Battleships and Fifteen Torpedoboats.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The naval appropriation bill for the next fiscal year will contain the most liberal allowances for the increase of the navy carried by any bill since the war. Four battleships and 15 torpedoboats was the decision of the committee on the question of new vessels, which had been the principal point of discussion in many meetings.

The Democrats fought hard to secure six battleships, but the Republicans stood well together and carried their point. The motion for six battleships was made by Mr. Cumming (N. Y.) and was lost by a vote of 6 to 7, but one Republican voting for it.

The four battleships will be of 11,000 tons each, and the cost is not to exceed $3,750,000 each, exclusive of armament, which is thought to be an ample provision, as other ships of the same class have been built in recent years well within that figure. Five of the torpedoboats are to have a speed of 26 knots and to cost within $500,000 each; the other ten are to have a speed of 20 knots and their cost limit is $800,000 each.

STONE'S BILL FAVERED.

His Immigration Measure to Be Reported to the House.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The house committee on immigration has made a favorable report on Representative W. A. Stone's immigration bill. The McCall bill, which is attached as amended by the committee, excludes all males between the ages of 16 and 60 who are not able to read and write English or some other language. The original bill placed the age limits at 14 and 60 and applied to both sexes. The omission of females from its provision was decided upon to prevent the separation of families.

JAMESON HAD INSTRUCTIONS.

A witness tells of a letter referred to on the raid.

LONDON, March 18.—The examination of Dr. S. L. Jameson, the raider of the Transvaal, and his companions, charged under the foreign enlistment act, with "warring on a friendly state," has been resumed.

Trooper Hill of the Matabeleland mounted police testified to hearing Dr. Jameson making a speech at Pitsani to the men who were to compose the expeditionary column. According to Hill Dr. Jameson told the troopers they were going to Johannesburg in order to protect the English women and children, whose lives were in danger.

Replying to a question the witness said that Dr. Jameson, while addressing the troopers, referred frequently to a letter which he held in his hand and which appeared to contain instructions as to the conduct of the expedition.

A letter from Johannesburg, dated Dec. 20, and appealing to Dr. Jameson to assist the Uitlanders against the oppression of the Boers was introduced in evidence. A dispatch sent by Sergeant White, with orders to overtake Dr. Jameson, and recalling the raiders was also introduced, after which the hearing was adjourned for a week.

A SMALL CONFLAGRATION.

The Department Called to Second Street This Afternoon.

A small sized conflagration occurred in the building owned by Mrs. Sarah Campbell, on the corner of Second and Market streets, this afternoon. The fire broke out in the first story of the house occupied by Samuel Strickling and wife and used as a restaurant. During the absence of the occupants a stove became red hot and set fire to the mantle, the flames finally spreading through the entire lower part of the building. An alarm was sent in and the department arrived, and in a very short time had a line of hose throwing a stream of water on the flames that were commencing to burst through the windows. The Babcock extinguishers were also used with good effect and the flames were quickly subdued. The interior of the lower story is badly damaged and the furniture all destroyed. The upper part of the building, occupied by James Baxter and wife, was not burned, although the stairway was scorched a great deal. A poor canine and a number of canaries perished in the flames. The loss will amount to over $200. It is partly covered by insurance.

THE WRONG PLACE.

A Young Man Who Had Never Been to Smith's Ferry.

The other day a prominent firm of this city decided to do some advertising in Smith's Ferry, and accordingly loaded one of their clerks down with some bills and started him to the train. The young man bought his ticket for Smith's Ferry and got on the train, thinking that the first stop the train made was at that place, but he made a miscalculation, as the train stopped at Dry Run, and he got off. The young man didn't discover his mistake, but only wondered why he had been given such a large supply of bills to advertise in such a small place. After tramping around in the mud, and leaving a poster at every house within a radius of a half mile, he decided not to wait on the train, but walked to East End and took a street car home with a goodly supply left. When he arrived here the firm were astonished, and after questioning him, discovered that he hadn't even seen Smith's Ferry. He was sent back the next day and found the right town.

WANTED TO BET.

Two Candidates Indulged in an Argument.

Two candidates for office—one for marshal and the other for constable—got into an argument on Sixth street this morning about the number of votes they were going to receive at the coming primary election, and the marshal candidate offered to bet the constable a dollar that he didn't know what he was talking about. The wager was promptly accepted, and a bystander called to hold the stakes. The candidate for constable reached down into his pocket and handed the stakeholder a dollar, and the other man put his money back into his pocket, to the amusement of the people who had heard the argument, as they didn't suppose he would be "bluffed" from the way he talked.

SHOOTING SNIPES.

A Young Man Whose Appetite For Tobacco is Strong.

This morning, as a reporter was standing at the corner of Fifth and Washington streets in conversation with a gentleman, a well dressed young man came down the street. All of a sudden the young man stopped, and casting a hasty glance about him, stooped down and picked up the butt end of a half-smoked cigar that someone had thrown on the pavement. After the young man had passed by, the gentleman turned to the reporter and said: "I have often heard of men doing such tricks as that, but it never came to my actual knowledge before. I always did feel sorry for a man that lets his appetite for tobacco run away with him, but I never thought it would lead to that."

For Marshal.

We want a first-class man for this position, as he has really as much to do with the peace and good order of the city as has the mayor. I have been watching the actions of the various candidates who are aspirants for the position of marshal, and I have found none who, in my opinion, can fill the berth as satisfactorily as can Harvey Badgley. He has been on the force for years and understands the work to a nicey. It will be remembered that he came within seven votes of defeating Charley Gill.

CITIZEN.

"Perhaps you would not think so, out a very large proportion of diseases in New York comes from carelessness about catching cold," says Dr. Cyrus Edson. "It is such a simple thing and so common that very few people, unless it is a case of pneumonia, pay any attention to a cold. There are a great many cases of catarrh and consumption which have their origin in this neglect of the simplest precaution of every day life. The most sensible advice is, when you have one, get rid of it as soon as possible. By all means do not neglect it." Doctor Edson does not tell you how to cure a cold but we will. Take Chamberlain's Cough remedy. It will relieve the lungs, aid expectoration, open the secretions and soon effect a permanent cure. Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. Stepping to the desk, he began to jot down the notes. He picked up his violin and tried them. In ten minutes we four gentlemen were singing that song. Mr. R. R. Crosby came in, and with tears in his eyes said, 'Gentlemen, that hymn is immortal.' We were all excited, elated. Within two weeks the children of the town were singing it on the streets.

"1868 'The Signet Ring' was published, the published distributing circulators to advertise it and on the sheets was 'The Sweet By and By.' GENESIS OF A SONG.

HOW "IN THE SWEET BY AND BY" CAME TO BE WRITTEN.

The Author Tells an Interesting Story of Its Composition—Within an Hour After the Idea Came Four Gentlemen Were Singing the Song.

In Richmond, a little town of less than 1,000 inhabitants, almost on the southern boundary line of Illinois, lives the author of "In the Sweet By and By." He is a practicing physician and is under 60 years of age. The immortal hymn was written when he was only 31 and is the single song of his life.

During the civil war a wave of moral and intellectual activity passed over the country. In this grand awakening of the conscience there was a flood of music—martial, religious, domestic. George F. Root and Stephen J. Foster were both writing songs that lived, and Sunday school hymns passed out of the driveling period into one of elevated simplicity.

Just at this time Samuel Fillmore Bennett was graduated from Ann Arbor, Mich., and began a newspaper career at Elkhorn, Wis., on The Independent. J. P. Webster, the musical composer, was living in the same town, and it was only a few months before the editor and the musician were collaborating. The war intervened, and Lieutenant Bennett of the Fortieth Wisconsin volunteers returned to Elkhorn to open a drug store and resume his verse writing. He and Mrs. Webster began in 1867 to work on a Sunday school song-book, called "The Signet Ring," which was afterward published.

This period of his life is the most precious of all his experiences to Dr. Bennett. Not long ago he told the whole story to an interested group of listeners, his eyes filling with tears as he vindicated his friend from calumnies:

"Currency has been given to the shameful story that Mr. Webster was drunk when he wrote the music, and another account has it that we were both drunk. I am thankful to do justice to one of the noblest men that ever lived—a fine, sensitive soul, with the true artistic feeling. Again, it has been said that we were both infidels, and the song the ribald jest of a carouse. As to my religion, that is my own affair, but the hope and longing of every immortal soul as expressed in that song were the faith of both of us. To both creation would have seemed a farce if infinite love and immortality had not overshadowed us and promised a life of bliss beyond the grave.

"Mr. Webster, like many musicians, was of an exceedingly nervous and sensitive nature, and subject to fits of depression. I knew his peculiarities well, and when I found him given up to blue devils, I just gave him a cheerful song to work on. One morning he came into the store and walked to the stove without speaking.

"What's up now, Webster?" I asked.
"It's no matter. It will be all right by and by."

"The idea of the hymn came to me like a flash of sunshine—"The Sweet By and By." Everything will be all right then. Why wouldn't that make a good hymn?"

"Maybe it would," he replied gloomily. Turning to the desk, I wrote as rapidly as I could. In less than half an hour, I think, the song as it stands today was written. Here it is:

"There's a land that is fair than day.
And by faith we can see it afar,
For the Father waits over the way
To prepare us a dwelling place there.

"In the sweet by and by
We shall meet on that beautiful shore
In the sweet by and by
We shall meet on that beautiful shore.

"We shall sing on that beautiful shore
The melodious songs of the best,
And our spirits shall sorrow no more—
Not a sigh for the blessing of rest.

"To our bountiful Father above

We will offer the tribute of praise
For the glorious gift of his love
And the blessings that hallow our days.

"In the meantime two friends, N. H. Carswell and S. E. Bright, had come in. I handed the verses to Mr. Webster, a little tremulous with emotion. As he read it his eyes kindled. Stepping to the desk, he began to jot down the notes. He picked up his violin and tried them. In ten minutes we four gentlemen were singing that song. Mr. R. R. A SMALL CONFLAGRATION.

The Department Called to Second Street This Afternoon.

A small sized conflagration occurred in the building owned by Mrs. Sarah Campbell, on the corner of Second and Market streets, this afternoon. The fire broke out in the first story of the house occupied by Samuel Strickling and wife and used as a restaurant. During the absence of the occupants a stove became red hot and set fire to the mantle, the flames finally spreading through the entire lower part of the building. An alarm was sent in and the department arrived, and in a very short time had a line of hose throwing a stream of water on the flames that were commencing to burst through the windows. The Babcock extinguishers were also used with good effect and the flames were quickly subdued. The interior of the lower story is badly damaged and the furniture all destroyed. The upper part of the building, occupied by James Baxter and wife, was not burned, although the stairway was scorched a great deal. A poor canine and a number of canaries perished in the flames. The loss will amount to over $200. It is partly covered by insurance.

A letter was received by parties in this city this morning from Dutch Zoellars, who is at present serving an 18 months sentence in the penitentiary for holding up a Chinaman. From the tone of the letter Zoellars seems to be in excellent spirits, and his character does not seem to have been benefited by his confinement. He states that when he arrived at the prison he weighed 135 pounds and that he now tips the beam at 175. He has eight and a half months yet to serve.

THE WRONG PLACE.

A Young Man Who Had Never Been to Smith's Ferry.

The other day a prominent firm of this city decided to do some advertising in Smith's Ferry, and accordingly loaded one of their clerks down with some bills and started him to the train. The young man bought his ticket for Smith's Ferry and got on the train, thinking that the first stop the train made was at that place, but he made a miscalculation, as the train stopped at Dry Run, and he got off. The young man didn't discover his mistake, but only wondered why he had been given such a large supply of bills to advertise in such a small place. After tramping around in the mud, and leaving a poster at every house within a radius of a half mile, he decided not to wait on the train, but walked to East End and took a street car home with a goodly supply left. When he arrived here the firm were astonished, and after questioning him, discovered that he hadn't even seen Smith's Ferry. He was sent back the next day and found the right town.

WANTED TO BET.

Two Candidates Indulged in an Argument.

Two candidates for office—one for marshal and the other for constable—got into an argument on Sixth street this morning about the number of votes they were going to receive at the coming primary election, and the marshal candidate offered to bet the constable man a dollar that he didn't know what he was talking about. The wager was promptly accepted, and a bystander called to hold the stakes. The candidate for constable reached down into his pocket and handed the stakeholder a dollar, and the other man put his money back into his pocket, to the amusement of the people who had heard the argument, as they didn't suppose he would be "bluffed" from the way he talked.

SHOOTING SNIPES.

A Young Man Whose Appetite For Tobacco is Strong.

This morning, as a reporter was standing at the corner of Fifth and Washington streets in conversation with a gentleman, a well dressed young man came down the street. All of a sudden the young man stopped, and casting a hasty glance about him, stooped down and picked up the butt end of a half-smoked cigar that someone had thrown on the pavement. After the young man had passed by, the gentleman turned to the reporter and said: "I have often heard of men doing such tricks as that, but it never came to my actual knowledge before. I always did feel sorry for a man that lets his appetite for tobacco run away with him, but I never thought it would lead to that."

FOR MARSHAL.

We want a first-class man for this position, as he has really as much to do with the peace and good order of the city as has the mayor. I have been watching the actions of the various candidates who are aspirants for the position of marshal, and I have found none who, in my opinion, can fill the berth as satisfactorily as can Harvey Badgley. He has been on the force for years and understands the work to a nicety. It will be remembered that he came within seven votes of defeating Charley Gill.

CITIZEN.

"Perhaps you would not think so, out a very large proportion of diseases in New York comes from carelessness about catching cold," says Dr. Cyrus Edson. "It is such a simple thing and so common that very few people, unless it is a case of pneumonia, pay any attention to a cold. There are a great many cases of catarrh and consumption which have their origin in this neglect of the simplest precaution of every day life. The most sensible advice is, when you have one, get rid of it as soon as possible. By all means do not neglect it." Doctor Edson does not tell you how to cure a cold but we will. Take Chamberlain's Cough remedy. It will relieve the lungs, aid expectoration, open the secretions and soon effect a permanent cure. Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. GENESIS OF A SONG.

HOW "IN THE SWEET BY AND BY" CAME TO BE WRITTEN.

Its Author Tells an Interesting Story of Its Composition—Within an Hour After the Idea Came Four Gentlemen Were Singing the Song.

In Richmond, a little town of less than 1,000 inhabitants, almost on the southern boundary line of Illinois, lives the author of "In the Sweet By and By." He is a practicing physician and is under 60 years of age. The immortal hymn was written when he was only 31 and is the single song of his life.

During the civil war a wave of moral elevation and intellectual activity passed over the country. In this grand awakening of the conscience there was a flood of music—martial, religious, domestic. George F. Root and Stephen J. Foster were both writing songs that lived, and Sunday school hymns passed out of the driveling period into one of elevated simplicity.

Just at this time Samuel Fillmore Bennett was graduated from Ann Arbor, Mich., and began a newspaper career at Elkhorn, Wis., on The Independent. J. P. Webster, the musical composer, was living in the same town, and it was only a few months before the editor and the musician were collaborating. The war intervened, and Lieutenant Bennett of the Fortieth Wisconsin volunteers returned to Elkhorn to open a drug store and resume his verse writing. He and Mrs. Webster began in 1867 to work on a Sunday school book, called "The Signet Ring," which was afterward published.

This period of his life is the most precious of all his experiences to Dr. Bennett. Not long ago he told the whole story to an interested group of listeners, his eyes filling with tears as he vindicated his friend from calumnies:

"Currency has been given to the shameful story that Mr. Webster was drunk when he wrote the music, and another account has it that we were both drunk. I am thankful to do justice to one of the noblest men that ever lived—a fine, sensitive soul, with the true artistic feeling. Again, it has been said that we were both infidels, and the song the ribald jest of a carouse. As to my religion, that is my own affair, but the hope and longing of every immortal soul as expressed in that song were the faith of both of us. To both creation would have seemed a farce if infinite love and immortality had not overshadowed us and promised a life of bliss beyond the grave."

"Mr. Webster, like many musicians, was of an exceedingly nervous and sensitive nature, and subject to fits of depression. I knew his peculiarities well, and when I found him given up to blue devils, I just gave him a cheerful song to work on. One morning he came into the store and walked to the stove without speaking.

"What's up now, Webster?" I asked.

"It's no matter. It will be all right by and by."

"The idea of the hymn came to me like a flash of sunshine—'The Sweet By and By.' Everything will be all right then. Why wouldn't that make a good hymn?"

"Maybe it would," he replied gloomily. Turning to the desk, I wrote as rapidly as I could. In less than half an hour, I think, the song as it stands to-day was written. Here it is:

"There's a land that is fairer than day,
And by faith we can see it afar,
For the Father waits over the way
To prepare us a dwelling place there."

CHORUS.

"In the sweet by and by
We shall meet on that beautiful shore
In the sweet by and by
We shall meet on that beautiful shore."

"We shall sing on that beautiful shore
The melodious songs of the blest,
And our spirits shall sorrow no more—
Not a sigh for the blessing of rest."

"To our bountiful Father above
We will offer the tribute of praise
For the glorious gift of his love
And the blessings that hallow our days."

"In the meantime two friends, N. H. Carswell and S. E. Bright, had come in. I handed the verses to Mr. Webster, a little tremulous with emotion. As he read it his eyes kindled. Stepping to the desk, he began to jot down the notes. He picked up his violin and tried them. In ten minutes we four gentlemen were singing that song. Mr. R. R. Crosby came in, and with tears in his eyes said, 'Gentlemen, that hymn is immortal.' We were all excited, elated. Within two weeks the children of the town were singing it on the streets.

"In 1868 'The Signet Ring' was published, the published distributing circulars to advertise it and on the sheets was 'The Sweet By and By.' On the strength of that one song nearly 250,000 copies of the book were sold. The song was afterward brought out in sheet music, and it has been translated into a number of foreign languages.

"Webster, Crosby and Carswell are all dead. S. E. Bright of Fort Atkinson, Wis., and myself are the only living witnesses to the origin of the song."—Louisville Post.

UNIDENTIFIED RIVERS.

The first rivers mentioned in authentic history are alluded to in Genesis. They are the Pison, the Gihon, the Hiddekel and the Euphrates, which are said to have flowed from the garden of Eden. Various attempts have been made to identify these streams, but no agreement has been reached among the authorities save in the case of the last.

How welcome the weekly newspaper in the home that comes out fair and square for God, and home, and native land. Who, in the light of recent events, dare deny that the press is the mightiest factor in this fight against the evils which menace this beloved country of ours? How thrilling the words of a Dix: "If any man attempt to tear down the American flag, shoot him on the spot." Ought the word of God to be less dear? Ought we not to love our Bible, and demand the same respect, if not higher, than that which is justly accorded to the emblem of our great country, the American flag?

A severe rheumatic pain in the left shoulder had troubled Mr. J. H. Loper, a well known druggist of Des Moines, Iowa, for over six months. At times the pain was so severe that he could not lift anything. With all
